Philosophy

Secular humanism, promoting human dignity without belief in a higher power.

"I choose science when I can, violence when I must, but silence is never an option."

Favorite Quotes

"All sciences are precise. That's what science means."

- Kent Davison (Veep, 2012-2019)

"Just by being born, technically, you changed the universe irrevocably."

- Michael Stevens (Vsauce, 2016)

"What matters isn't if people are good or bad. What matters is if they're trying to be better today than they were yesterday."

"People improve when they get external love and support. How can we hold it against them when they don't?"

- Michael Realman (The Good Place, 2016-2020)

"True literature can exist only where it is created, not by diligent and trustworthy functionaries, but by madmen, hermits, heretics, dreamers, rebels, and skeptics."

- Yevgeny Zamyatin (A Soviet Heretic: Essays, 1955)

"The number of hours we have together is actually not so large. Please linger near the door uncomfortably instead of just leaving. Please forget your scarf in my life and come back later for it."

- Mikko Harvey (from his poem "For M", 2023)

"Of course I'll hurt you. Of course you'll hurt me. Of course we will hurt each other. But this is the very condition of existence. To become spring, means accepting the risk of winter. To become presence, means accepting the risk of absence."

- Antoine de Saint-Exupéry (translated from French, date unknown)

"I'm advocating for accepting wisdom and insight from anyone who can bring it, regardless of where they come from. And in fact, if they come from someplace that's different than where I come from, I probably have more to learn and more to gain than just talking to another person who agrees with me already."

- Rhett McLaughlin (Rich Roll podcast, 2025)
