The Secret Life of Sandworms CYBERWARCON 2019, November 21, 2019, Arlington, VA Presentation by Neel Mehta and Billy Leonard, Google The activities of Sandworm Team have been well covered over the past several years - from turning off the lights in Ukraine, to compromising software supply chains, to attempting to disrupt the 2018 Winter Olympics. But despite all of the media coverage and attention, many of their campaigns have escaped notice and continued to go unreported. We will discuss several of these unreported campaigns, including the targeting of financial and automotive organizations, real estate firms and their campaigns involving mobile malware.
